

VIRGINIA QUINT IS GETTING IN SHAPE

Although Southern Trip Abandoned, Good Schedule Remains to Be Played.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., January 10.—Although the Virginia basketball squad was much disappointed over the failure of the big Southern trip to materialize, due to opposition from the president and faculty, a large number of applicants reported for work the past week, and much ginger is being displayed in the daily practice.

Captain Ashby and all of last year's regulars, who are in college, as well as many of the new men, are fast rounding into midseason form, and from present indications the defeats dealt out last year by Georgetown and other quint will be entirely swept away within the next month or two.

While the omission of the Southern trip cuts the schedule nearly in two, there are still quite a number of games to be played, and arrangements are being made for several more. The schedule, as it now stands, is as follows:

January 15th—William and Mary, at Williamsburg.
January 23d—Open.
January 30th—Georgetown, at Charlottesville.
February 6th—Open.
February 12th—George Washington, at Washington.
February 13th—Navy, at Annapolis.
February 20th—George Washington, at Charlottesville.
February 27th—Georgetown, at Washington.

The open dates will very likely be filled with games with Washington and Lee, which always has a strong basketball team. The management also has plans on foot to arrange games with Randolph-Macon and William and Mary Colleges, to be played in Richmond.

MAGNATES MEET IN LYNCHBURG TO-DAY

Presidency of Virginia League Will Come Up Again.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNCHBURG, Va., January 10.—It is learned from a reliable source that President Jake Wells will be here Monday to preside over the Virginia League meeting.

Otto Wells will represent Norfolk. The Richmond delegation will be President Bradley, Attorney Sands and Secretary E. N. Gregory. President Clark will represent Danville. Owner Bland of Portsmouth, and Williams and Bland of Roanoke are expected to be on hand for their teams. Either President Lazarus or Vice-President Anderson will represent the local team.

The presidency of the league will be an easy matter to solve if the magnates can agree on a salary limit. Richmond, Norfolk and Lynchburg seem to favor $1,500 monthly, while the others would make it $1,200. If the salary limit is below $1,200, Boyer will never be elected president. If it is as high as $1,500, he may get the job. Otherwise, the meeting will end in a deadlock.

EDWARD HEFFNER TO PLAY SECOND BASE FOR COLTS

According to information received here yesterday from Baltimore, Edward Heffner, better known as "Faddy" Heffner, who served as an umpire in the South Atlantic League last season, and who, in the season of 1927, played in the P. O. M. League, has accepted an offer from the Perry 1929 to play second base for the Richmond team during the coming season. Heffner is well known as a ball player of ability, and he should prove a strong addition to the Colts' infield.

Playing Basketball.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNCHBURG, Va., January 10.—Basketball seems to have taken Lynchburg by storm this winter, and there are today more than 200 men and boys in the Young Men's Christian Association, who are members of regularly organized teams. Out of these teams the association will probably select a strong association team.

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy—"Coming Thro' the Rye."
Bijou—"Young Buffalo, King of the Wild West."

"Coming Thro' the Rye," which comes to the Academy to-night, furnishes enjoyment of the wholesome, hearty kind. It keeps the spectators constantly convulsed with laughter, except when some charming musical number is being rendered, and during this feast of mirth and melody there is an ever-changing series of bright, animated pictures. This production is said to be the most extraordinary success which it has achieved all over the country, a success which is complimentary alike to the management which is sponsor for it and to the good taste and discernment of the public. ON THE STARTING LINE

JAMES A. RECTOR.

RECTOR'S HEART IS GOOD, BUT QUILTS FOR SEASON

University's Great Sprinter Says There Is No Foundation for the Sensational Story—President Did Not Write Him Letter.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., January 10.—When seen this morning in his room at the Delta Psi fraternity house, St. Anthony Hall, at the University of Virginia, James A. Rector, champion short distance sprinter of the American cinder path, once more confirmed the statement sent out during the Christmas holidays from his home at Hot Springs, Ark., that he had retired from the cinder path and would not participate in any of the meets scheduled for the Virginia team this winter and spring.

When asked if he would participate in the forthcoming meet with Georgetown, the great sprinter replied: "I most certainly will not, neither in the sprint nor as a member of the relay team."

Rector laughed at the story sent out from Memphis last week to the effect that he had received a personal letter from President Roosevelt asking him to run another race with Walker, the South African, when the latter comes to this country this summer. "I received no such letter," said Rector. "There is absolutely no foundation for the story."

Health Good, Heart Strong.
Rector was equally amused at the special in the afternoon papers of Friday, which stated that he had been warned that he could not live two years if he continued in training, and that such an ultimatum had been issued by the doctors here. "My health was never better," said Rector this morning. "My heart is as strong as any man's."

The case with which Rector trains for his races has been the wonder of his colleagues. It has been stated that he can be gotten in fit condition for any race in three days. It is also said that while in training he never gives up smoking cigarettes. His physique is wonderful. He weighs nearly 150 pounds, and has an ideal build, with sufficiently robust chest and shoulder development, so necessary for maximum results. He has the muscles of a prizefighter.

Walker, He Can Beat.
The Arkansas boy is confident of his ability to defeat Walker, should the two again meet on the cinder path for a second trial. The fact that the South African has twice within a few weeks run the 100 yards in 9.2-5 seconds and has also broken the record for the 100 meter and the 120 yards does not bother Rector. Should the two be brought together this summer, Rector is firm in the belief that he will be able to take the South African's measure.

It will be recalled that Rector ran the 100 meters several times in London in world record time, while Walker ran it only once in that time, and beat the Virginia flyer out in the finals.

Artists as Mr. Carl Eckstrom, Mr. Rogers Lytle and Harry Stafford. Miss Frederica Goins, Miss Nellie Reed, and numbers 100 in all.

Bonds Carried.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEWARK, N. J., January 10.—The Board of Aldermen have carried a vote for street improvements and declared the bonds carried. The city clerk has been ordered to advertise the bonds for sale and to ask bids for paving the streets.

Dr. Abbott Accepts.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., January 10.—Dr. Lyman Abbott, of New York, has accepted the invitation to preach the commencement sermon for the University of Virginia on June 13th.

ELABORATE CEREMONIES

Marked consecration of Rev. Corrigan as Titular Bishop of Macra.

BALTIMORE, Md., January 10.—With elaborate and impressive ceremonies, Rev. Owen P. Corrigan today was consecrated titular bishop of Macra, and at the same time became auxiliary bishop of Baltimore.

The ceremony of consecration was performed by Cardinal Gibbons in the Cathedral of this archdiocese. Assisting him were Bishops Murray, Burke, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Benjamin J. Kelley, of Savannah.

Among the prelates present were Rt. Revs. H. P. Northrop, of Charleston; Van de Vyver, of Richmond; P. J. Donahue, of Wheeling; William J. Kenney, of St. Augustine, Fla.; and Leo Hall, vicar apostolic of North Carolina.

News of the Southside

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.
The services at Central Methodist Church for men were conducted yesterday afternoon by Rev. Frank Granstaff before an immense audience, numbering perhaps over 700. Mr. Owen P. Pugh led a choir of men on the stage, and the great audience would join in the hymns. Mr. Pugh effectively sang two solos—"Mother's Prayer" and "Tell Mother I'll Be There."

At the conclusion of Dr. Granstaff's address on "The Open Book," a large number of men of all ages met him at the altar requesting prayer. Cards asking the men to indicate their definite intention for Christ and Church work were distributed among the audience by the ushers. A number of these were signed and returned to the ministers present. The service was memorable, and will long live in the memory of those present.

Night Service.
At the night service, which was conducted for all, another large audience was present. Extra benches and chairs had been provided, but even with these all the crowd could not be accommodated. The Rev. Frank Granstaff delivered the sermon, taking as his subject Joshua, twenty-fourth chapter, fifteenth verse, "Choose You This Day Whom Ye Will Serve." The sermon was strong and forceful. Mr. Pugh sang two solos—"His Love Will Not Fail" and "Full Surrender." At the night's service Mr. Granstaff will take as his subject "Other World Things."

Election of Officers.
The annual meeting and election of officers of the Manchester and Chesterfield Business Men's Association will take place next Friday night at the Lafayette House, following which the members and friends and members of the City Council will hold a smoker. It is thought that all the present officers of the association will be re-elected. President D. L. Toney is receiving many letters from business men in reply to the one he sent out, and will base his report on these. Many of the letters are encouraging, and speak of the association in the highest terms. One well-known business man stated that the outlook for a good business year in the city was particularly bright.

Smith in Jail.
Harvey Smith, of Swansboro, the young white man, who was arrested recently on the charge of abducting Nettie Taylor, formerly of Swansboro, but at present living in Newport News, has been sent to jail, and will remain in the Manchester Jail until he is innocent of the charge. The case will probably come to trial in a few days.

Persons and Briefs.
Mr. T. E. Burton, who has been on a business trip to New York and Boston for the past few days, has returned home.

Mrs. Mollie G. Turpin continues quite ill at her home on Porter Street.

Mrs. Albert Mayo, of Petersburg, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. T. A. Atwell, of Portsmouth.

Miss Emma Wakefield is quite sick at the home of her parents.

Master W. Gray Garnett, who has been sick for several days, is able to be out of the house now.

Miss Marion Fitzgerald entertained a number of her friends at her home on Bainbridge Street, Friday night at a fancy dress party.

The Manchester Lodge of Elks will meet to-night, when an applicant from Richmond will be initiated.

Mr. C. L. Dettill will on Monday at his home on East Twelfth Street.

Rosky Ridge Council, Jr. O. U. M. A. will meet to-night at Fraternal Hall.

Mr. James Lyle, of Chesterfield county, was a visitor to the city yesterday.

CABINET FRAMERS USE IMAGINATION

President-Elect's Decision Not to Talk Leaves Them a Free Hand.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 10.—The decision of President-Elect Taft to refrain from making public the names of the persons he has selected to be members of his Cabinet, with the exception of the Secretary of the Interior, Hitchcock, has had the effect of greatly inflating Cabinet gossip. With no possibility of an official contradiction confronting them, would-be Cabinet builders are now free to exercise their ingenuity and imagination to the full.

The fact that can be done is to accept probabilities as such simply, for any attempt to make positive statements would be unwarranted in the light of last night's announcement from August.

Without regard to religion.
Because of the feeling that there should be a Jew in the cabinet, friends of Secretary Straus are hopeful of his retention as Secretary of Commerce and Labor, and they point to his record of accomplishments. But the President is understood to have said that he did not propose to have regard to any man's religion or creed in constructing his Cabinet, but rather to the business ability of a man.

That statement has gone far toward strengthening the candidacy of Charles Nagel, of Louisville, for the secretaryship of commerce and labor. Political considerations are strongly urged in his case. It being asserted that such an appointment would go far towards landing Missouri safely in the column of Republican States hereafter.

The discovery that Secretary Wilson had already succeeded in establishing a record for longevity of service as a Cabinet officer has weakened what appeared to be the strong hold he had upon his present position. Gifford Pinchot, the chief forester, is the only person whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the Department of Agriculture portfolio in the event that Secretary Wilson is to leave. But this recent discovery will doubtless have the effect of bringing forth other candidates.

Wright Seems Certain.
Having been selected as Secretary of War when William H. Taft was the certain choice of the people as President, and consequently presumably by the Senate, Mr. Wright seems almost certain to retain his place in the new Cabinet, though it is understood that his incumbency will not be long.

Postmaster-General Meyer would try much like to be President. Taft's selection of the Treasury, but the friends of former Governor Herrick, of Ohio, have presented his claims with such ability as to make him a formidable candidate for that position. Should he prevail, it would not be surprising if Mr. Meyer were asked to accept the naval portfolio, which, indeed, would be gratifying to his native State by reason of the existence of the navy yard at Boston.

Other names advanced in connection with the treasury are those of James F. Morgan, one of the great financial banking agents of Chicago; John J. Mitchell, of the same city, another well-known figure in the financial world, and John W. Barr, president of a big trust company, Louisville.

Representative of the South, one of the points being made in favor of the latter.

China's Special Ambassador Goes to See Friends in New England.
WASHINGTON, D. C., January 10.—Tang Shao Yi, the special Chinese ambassador to the United States, whose special mission in Washington was cut short on orders from Peking, left here today, unaccompanied, for Springfield, Mass., where he is to visit some friends of his earlier days when he attended school in the country. Later he will go to Hartford, Conn., and thence to New York, whence he sails on the 13th instant for home by way of Europe.

Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, and officials of the special embassy were at the station to see him off. During the week Prince Tsai Pu, honorary secretary, and Chung Mun-yew, the secretary, and a dozen other attaches will join Tang in New York and sail with him to Europe.

The twenty students which Mr. Tang brought with him have been located in various American educational institutions throughout the country.

On reaching London the ambassador will be met by interpreters, who will bring with them letters accrediting the ambassador to the governments of France, Germany, Italy, Russia and other countries he is to visit.

Tang's enforced retirement while in Washington because of the one hundred days of mourning directed by the Chinese court following the death of the Emperor and Empress Dowager.
